Unidentified Pilot Lands In Street Then Disappears

NEW YORK (AP)—An unidentified pilot made a perfect landing early today on an upper Manhattan street, then fled from the single-engine, two-seater craft.

Police said they were seeking for questioning a man who landed a small plane in a city street two years ago.

The plane, with a wingspread of about 40 feet, was set down on heavily traveled, 60-foot wide, Amsterdam Avenue at 187th Street.

A motorist, John Johnson, 34, told police:

"I saw something coming down. I didn't know what to imagine. I slammed on my brakes and a plane skidded over the top of my car and made a perfect landing ahead of me."

Blond, husky, 6 feet

"I saw a man get out and run toward St. Nicholas Avenue on 187th Street."

Johnson described the pilot as blond, husky, and about six feet tall.

The plane, a red and white Cessna, turned out to belong to Donald Hulse of Paramus, N. J., who operates an aeronautics school at Teterboro, N. J. Airport. At Teterboro, officials said, a plane took off at 12:20 a.m. from the field's west taxiway without navigation lights, clearance or radio contact with the control tower.

On the block in which the plane landed are apartment buildings varying in size from five to 10 stories.

Remove Wings

Police removed the plane's wings, then loaded them and the fuselage aboard trucks for removal to a station house.

Hulse said the plane is one of 10 of the same type his school uses.

Authorities said they wanted to question Thomas Fitzpatrick, now 28, who on Sept. 30, 1956, "borrowed" a small plane from Hulse's school at Teterboro and landed it safely on St. Nicholas Avenue at 191st Street, Manhattan.

Fitzpatrick, blond and husky, left the plane and walked into a nearby tavern, where he was picked up.

Fitzpatrick had been taking lessons at Hulse's school. Hulse refused to press a grand larceny charge, and Fitzpatrick got off with a $100 fine after being found guilty of landing without a permit, reckless operation of a plane, and flying without a medical certificate.

Police said it was understood that Fitzpatrick currently was residing in Emerson, N. J.

JAYCEES VOICE OPPOSITION TO NEW STANDARDS

At a recent meeting of the Gettysburg Junior Chamber of Commerce the following resolution was adopted:

"Be it resolved that the Gettysburg Junior Chamber of Commerce urge the Council of the Borough of Gettysburg, Adams County, Pennsylvania, to re-examine its decision concerning the purchase and installation of a new street lighting system for the center portion of Gettysburg."

"Be it further resolved that, although the Gettysburg Junior Chamber of Commerce does not maintain a partisan view in the matter, we respectfully suggest that the re-examination and decision be based on:

"1. Cost to the individual citizen of Gettysburg

"2. Historical benefit to the town

"3. Possible need for more adequate lighting in other sections of the Borough of Gettysburg."

"Be it finally resolved that the Gettysburg Junior Chamber of Commerce has confidence in the ability of the members of the Council of the Borough of Gettysburg to arrive at a re-examined decision beneficial to all the citizens of the community; and that this resolution be forwarded to all members of the council and the editor of The Gettysburg Times."

DINNER MONDAY IS KICKOFF FOR CHEST CAMPAIGN

Gettysburg Community Chest will begin its annual house to house canvass for $25,800 Monday evening following a joint service club dinner session at the Gettysburg High School cafeteria.

Nearly 300 members of the local organizations are scheduled to meet at the high school at 6 o'clock Monday evening for a talk by Ray Weigand, York-Adams Boy Scout executive, and distribution to them of supplies for the annual residential canvass.

Immediately following the dinner, at about 7:30 o'clock, the men and women will begin knocking on doors in the community to ask for donations toward the 1958 goal of Community Chest to provide funds for seven local agencies next year.

Pledging Urged

It is anticipated that the bulk of the canvass will be completed Monday night and the remainder of the week.

Following that a special canvassing group will be established to visit those homes missed by the group starting their work Monday night.

Gordon Webster, president of Community Chest, and William Lentz, drive chairman, have urged the public to recall that: "This drive is one campaign for seven different agencies — the Red Cross, the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Library, Civic Nurse, YWCA and USO — United Fund. Because it is one campaign for many organizations, donations should be large enough to cover the amount each person would give if there were seven different campaigns. For that reason we permit and urge pledges so that a person can give over a year period more than he might have in pocket at the time the canvassers call."

WESTMINSTER R. 2 MAN DIES IN AUTO CRASH

A 26-year-old Westminster R. 2 man was injured fatally in a one-car accident at 11 p.m. Friday on the Westminster-Littlestown highway, about eight miles south of Littlestown.

State police said the set was sold for $300 to a reputable York family by a man answering the description of the one being sought.

A milk stole valued at $1,000, found in the room of the man in a fashionable pork house, has been identified as the neckpiece stolen from a home in Westminster, Md.

Car Is Impounded

The suspect, identified by police as William Douglas Cole, 39, is charged with burglary in an information filed by state police before Alderman H. Gellard Fikes. A 1957-model station wagon with New York state registration tags issued to Cole, found in the Shiloh area Tuesday night during the investigation of three house burglaries, has been impounded.

$7,000 A YEAR COP INHERITS SMALL FORTUNE

By RICHARD VALERIANI

NEW YORK (AP)—What happens when a $7,000-a-year policeman suddenly becomes a millionaire?

He reports for work as usual and asks to be let alone.

At least that's what patrolman John B. Gaul did.

Gaul became the richest of New York's finest Friday. He fell heir to the lion's share of a $14-million dollar fortune, bequeathed him by an uncle.

The 30-year-old father of two reported as usual for his 4 p.m. to midnight shift as a station house clerk. Not so usual was the battery of reporters and photographers awaiting him.

Gaul, cited five times for meritorious service in the line of duty, retreated before the demands of the press. He holed up in his captain's office.

"Excellent Record"

The captain, Sanford Garelik, issued a statement. "Patrolman Gaul," he said, "is a dignified individual with an excellent record."

Then Gaul emerged and owned up to his newly acquired status as a millionaire. He clarified the past, but was reticent about the future.

Gaul, who joined the force in 1960, had advanced to the rank of second grade detective by early this year. His uncle, Dr. Julian A. Gaul of Roxbury, N. Y., died Jan. 30. He named his nephew chief beneficiary in the will. Gaul resigned from the department Feb. 4 to administer the estate.

The will, however, was contested by three other relatives. Gaul rejoined the force June 12 as a patrolman.

Gaul said Friday a settlement appeared to have been reached and he expected to have the bulk of the estate's money shortly.

Although proud of his record as a policeman, Gaul said, "Don't let all policemen live for the day that their 20 years are up so they can retire?"

NIXON CALLS TRUMAN TALK 'DISTORTING'

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Vice President Richard Nixon told a cheering crowd of Republicans here that a vote for Democrats in the House or Senate is a vote to raise taxes.

It also is a vote "to cheapen your money and to stifle the new investment and enterprise which means more jobs and more progress for the American people," Nixon told a bargain priced—$49.50-a-plate — Republican fundraising dinner here Friday night.

The vice president was scheduled to leave for Washington, D.C. by plane at 8:45 a.m.

The speech levelled a few shots at former President Harry S. Truman, Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore) and former Democratic presidential candidate Adlai Stevenson.

Nixon reiterated his defense of the Eisenhower administration's policies on Formosa and the offshore islands.

Nixon commended Truman for his support of President Eisenhower in the Lebanon and Quemoey crisis. But he said the former president had been misrepresenting and distorting the record of the administration on other issues.

Nixon said Stevenson had suggested a plebiscite to allow the people of Formosa to choose the kind of government they want.

The vice president said there would be more justification for such an election in Red China, Hungary and other Iron Curtain countries.

Nixon noted Sen. Morse had called for the impeachment of President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles for their conduct of foreign policy. Such an impeachment resolution, Nixon said would get one vote—that of Morse.

Turning to the problems of the offshore islands, Nixon said turning Quemoey and Matsu over to the Communists would not bring peace. "A policy of firmness when dealing with the Communists is a peace policy. And a policy of weakness is a war policy," he said.

World Briefs

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy (AP)—Pope Pius XII today suffered a slight return attack of hiccups, the affliction that weakened him dangerously four years ago.

The hiccups were clearly noted during an audience at the pontiff's summer residence here when he addressed delegates to Italy's National Congress of Plastic Surgeons. During the address, in which the pontiff said plastic surgery for moral purposes is permissible, the Pope repeatedly hiccuped.

Later, close associates of the 82-year-old head of the Roman Catholic Church said the Pope had been advised to cut short his address to the plastic surgeons. He did so.

FAMAGUSTA, Cyprus (AP)—Two Greek Cypriots died of injuries as 25 British troops rounded up suspects in the fatal shooting of a British serviceman's wife, authorities said today.

STOCK MARKET SETS HEAVIEST TRADING MARK

By ED MORSE

AP Business News Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market roared on to a series of record highs this week. Trading was the heaviest in nearly a year.

The market set all-time peaks on four of the five trading sessions.

It was the third straight week the market has set historic highs and the seventh consecutive weekly rise.

Volume of 19,227,870 shares was the biggest for any week since the week ended Oct. 26, 1957, when 20,804,100 shares changed hands. That was the week stocks climaxed a long decline by falling to the lowest levels since January 1955. The present upturn dates from then.

Tape Falls Behind

No day passed without the ticker tape falling behind transactions this week on the New York Stock Exchange. Buying interest was intense. The market declined only on Wednesday and then moderately as profits were taken. Even on that day, the laggard oil section advanced against the trend.

Wildcat workouts at Chrysler and the brief strike at General Motors did not throw the market off stride. Wall Street acted as if the labor agreements would be arrived at and that nothing would throw a monkey wrench into the rebounding economy. Wall Street guessed right.

The temperance of this week's market was such that the GM strike brought no nervous selling but the GM settlement bolstered overall confidence and spurred GM to a jump of 1/4 in heavy trading on Friday.

Top Car Loadings

Lower priced, speculative issues came to the fore once again but this proved no deterrent to investment in blue chips. They rose also.

Besides the auto wage agreements the week also brought news of top carloadings for 1958, steel production at a peak for the year, construction contract awards at high levels, and rising prices for copper, lead and zinc.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose $2.70, ending the week at a new summit of $196.10.

The Dow-Jones Industrial Average continued its rise to record levels, closing at 533.73. The 65-stock component of this average finally exceeded its record top of Aug. 2, 1956, making a new high of 184.50 on Friday.

Standard & Poor's 500-stock index, a very broad market barometer, set a new record high of 50.37.

FRANKLIN COUNTY

The Washington trip of seniors of the Chambersburg Area Joint High School may be discontinued after 1960. School administrators raised the question of continuance of the annual excursion at a meeting of the joint board committee. Robert J. Beard, high school principal, reported that future senior classes will number about 400 and that handling of a group of that size poses serious problems for administrators and chaperons. The committee agreed to consider the matter and give a decision at its next meeting November 6.

New school teachers in the community were guests of the Greater Chambersburg Chamber of Commerce at a welcoming dinner Friday night.

Brownie Scout Troop No. 32 met recently in the little school house in Fairfield with 25 present. The meeting was opened by Mrs. Robert Williams, leader. Flag bearers were Ann Scott and Georgianna Fissel. Diane Kleppinger called the roll and Betsy Neely collected the dues. The Brownies then went outdoors where they learned three songs, "Louisiana Lullaby," "In a Cabin in the Woods" and "White Coral Bells." Later they played games. Their leader was assisted in conducting the meeting by Diane Kleppinger, Elizabeth Dick and Joyce Spence.

Girl Scout Troop 31 met Wednesday afternoon at the Bendersville Lutheran Church. Patrol Three conducted the flag ceremony. "O Beautiful Banner" was sung and the business meeting followed. Patrol one worked on the conservation badge, patrol two on the first class badge, and patrol three on the second class requirements.

Leaders present were Mrs. Marvin Fox, Mrs. Jeanne C. Thompson and Mrs. Luther Horick. Miss Sally Fox served as senior aide.

Girl Scout Troop 42 held its weekly meeting in the Reformed Church Thursday afternoon. The girls discussed what badges will be earned. Susan Striver led the group in songs, assisted by Nancy Kuhn at the piano. Kay Newman led the games. Plans were made to hold a skating party on October 10 at the Littlestown skating rink.

Mrs. Paul Newman and Mrs. Ralph Bream are the troop leaders.

Intermediate Troop 44 met Thursday afternoon in St. James Church. Patrol A, of which Latisha Fiedler is leader, had charge of the flag ceremony. Three new girls introduced and welcomed into the troop were Beverly Bixler, Alma Trostle and Peggy Seymour.

In connection with the garden flower badge the girls will go to the home of Mrs. Arthur Phiel, R. 3, on Saturday afternoon to learn the proper way to cut flowers and make arrangements. Clothing and other donations were brought in by the girls for a friend, Helen Helwig, and her family whose home was recently damaged in fire.

Leaders are Mrs. Arthur Phiel and Mrs. Walter Johnson.

Early Christmas Mailing Will Best Assure Safest Arrival Of Xmas Packages

Noting the Christmas season is "just around the corner," Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield today urged the public to begin planning Christmas mailings now.

He coupled this plea with a warning that the Post Office Department is unable each year to deliver or return about half a million parcels including many lost at Christmas time because of poor packaging or addressing.

He suggested several steps that can be taken by mailers to protect themselves against loss:

Six Measures

1. Check and revise mailing lists.
2. Type or hand-print gummed mailing labels. Fill them out now and save time later.
3. Use complete addresses. Don't abbreviate. Include delivery zone number.

4. Make a list of your mailing needs and start buying good quality mailing materials now — strong cord, heavy wrapping paper, and so forth.

5. Get at least some Christmas parcels in the mails soon with a notation that they are not to be opened until Christmas. This will minimize mailing problems during the Christmas rush.

6. Plan to use insurance on all parcels. (Neither insurance fees nor parcel post rates were affected by recent postal rate changes, incidentally.)

Lost Parcels Sold

Mr. Summerfield also discussed what happens when parcels become lost, and some interesting stories that have grown up over the years concerning dead parcel post auction sales.

Lost parcels are auctioned, yielding about a quarter million dollars annually, from approximately half a million parcels, for the U.S. Treasury.

However, this is one of the less welcome sources of revenue. Postal employees know that, in addition to the expenses and delays involved, lost parcels usually mean disappointment for someone at Christmas time, frequently for children.

Postal employees cannot participate in the bidding. They do, however, act as auctioneers, and take pride in attempting to get as much of the true value of the article as possible.

Sold Own Coat

This is illustrated by the story that one auctioneer became so absorbed in his work he sold the coat to his own brand new suit for $150.

In another sale, an astute postal auctioneer noticed an unusual bar of soap and broke it open. Inside was a diamond and emerald brooch which brought $975 for Uncle Sam. This was one of the biggest parcel post auction sales known to old-timers. (Being a big one, it happened in Texas, of course.)

Sometimes, though, auctioneers are unsuccessful in their efforts to get a good price. At a San Francisco auction, for instance, the auctioneer let a man's wallet go for

Often, mailers will spend many dollars on the gift, but will wrap it in scrap newspapers, torn up paper bags, and so forth.

Experience of the postal service has shown that this is poor economy, and invites loss. A good rule is to use only materials of good quality — heavy twine and strong, new paper, for example — and use an adequate amount of them to do the packaging job properly.

Also it's a good idea to write both address and return address inside the parcel, on the box containing the gift, or on an inside wrapper. A personal card or a piece of stationery containing the mailer's name and address also can be included in the parcel to insure return, if it cannot be delivered.

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP) — Two Scranton men and one from Hanover Township were involved today in a half million dollar fraud case.

The Hanover man, Michael Allen, was described by authorities as the kingpin in the case. He was arraigned Friday on charges of larceny and receiving about $7,000 in stolen merchandise from the Shelborne Corp., a local distributing firm.

The Scranton men also were arraigned. They were charged with stealing the merchandise and delivering it to Allen. The men, who were Shelborne employees, are Albert E. McDermott and Joseph Burke, both of Valley View Terrace, Scranton.

Free On Ball

Allen was free in $2,500 bail. The other two were free on bail of $1,000 each.

Police said items stolen included portable television sets, tape recorders, radios and other appliances.

Investigators said Burke and McDermott signed confessions that they stole the articles at Allen's request.

Allen had been arrested with a group of Wilkes-Barre men last August and charged with receiving goods from other distributors. Police estimated about $500,000 in merchandise had been taken from various firms during the year.

INVESTING IN HAPPINESS

Every time that we do a kind deed, give hope and courage to another, or try to make another person happy, we then make a fine investment in happiness. And that happiness is not merely for the day of event, but for all time! Invest in happiness and you will gain immediate dividends, and they will accumulate. There is so much pleasure and personal happiness in this investment in happiness. It touches the soul and enriches it. None of us should ever run out of kind deeds and the urge to make others happy and successful.

I once heard a prominent man tell another that the best investment anyone could make in this life would be to invest in an ambitious and purposeful human being. Many such an investor lives to see his investment grow in value year by year! You can't compare an engraved certificate to a man or woman who has made good in life. Invest in happiness if you want to see that investment grow and grow, and grow.

People with interests always seem to be so happy. They are happy! They have arranged their lives; and cultivated the idea of being happy at work, no matter what the place or circumstance. I have noted that people who engross themselves in pleasant little things, get so much more out of life than others who have no such experiences.

The fascinating hobby of stamp collecting has brought great happiness to many. I believe this hobby has added many years of enjoyment to those who have pursued the hunt for rarities. And besides, there is much to be learned from postage stamps from all over the world.

Just Folks

END OF THE ROMANCE

"The days will dreary seem," said he,
"When you are far away.
Though blue above the skies may be,
To me they will be gray."

"My every thought will be of you
Until again we meet.
It is so hard to say 'adieu'
Though parting is so sweet."

"I'll think of you each day," said she,
"And dream of you each night.
And every thought that comes to me
To you I'll gladly write."

"You've promised that each day
You'll pen
A word of love to me,
And that will help to cheer me when
The hours drag drearily."

But day by day no letters came,
Since fiction here I barred,
For he forgot the maiden's name,
And she mislaid his card.

County History

Rev. Isaac N. Hays

By B. F. M. MacPherson

As stated in last week's column it was the Rev. James C. Watson who began the keeping of the Sessional records, both at Upper Marsh Creek Presbyterian Church and at Great Conewago. These records give many historical and genealogical sidelights on early members of both congregations. The following incident illustrates this point.

One Sunday, during the pastorate of the Rev. Watson at Great Conewago, a very thrifty member of that congregation approached the minister, after he had preached a particularly pointed sermon on temperance and usury, saying, "I guess you meant that for me."

With the words he handed the minister a dollar. Mr. Watson surprised him by taking the money and replying, "If the shoe fits, put it on."

At the next meeting of Session this member of Great Conewago Church had two charges brought against him — one, for exhibition of unchristian conduct; second, for the conduct on the Sabbath Day in which he broke the fourth commandment by offering money in an insulting and contemptuous manner to the pastor of the church.

According to the Session records the particulars of this case are as follows:

"February 10, 1840 — Mr. Watson presented the following charge against Mr. ———, a member of this church, viz: I charge Mr. ——— with general unchristian conduct exhibited in the following particulars: — First — In the giving way to angry feelings toward several persons in the Town of Hunterstown on Tuesday the fourteenth day of January 1840 by which the Church of which he was a member was made to suffer. The testimony to prove the above charge are the following: — Mr. Job Dicks, Mr. Thomas Dicks, Mr. David White, Mr. Jas. Morrison, and Captain William Jones. — Second, in conduct on the Sabbath day, the ninth day of February 1840, in which he broke the fourth commandment by offering money in an insulting and contemptuous manner to the Pastor of this Church, after having previously threatened to act precisely in the manner he has done, by which conduct the religion which he professed and the Church of which he is a member were made to suffer in the eyes of the world. The witnesses to prove the above charge are Mr. John Neely, Mr. Hugh King, Mr. Peter Hulick, Mr. ——— Fickes, and Mr. Robert McIlhenry."

Defendant Is Cited
After due and lengthy deliberation the unfortunate man, against whom the above charges were made, was cited to appear before the next meeting of the Session.

"Saturday, March 7, 1840 — Mr. ——— appeared before Session. The charges were read to him and he was asked whether he was guilty or not guilty of the sins specified against him in two particulars in the charge. He pled not guilty to the first and second. The Session was then asked if they were ready to proceed to trial, when the prosecutor Mr. Watson stated that some of his witnesses had not appeared, but if the defendant was ready, and wished to go on with the trial, he (Rev. Watson) would not object. The Defendant said he was ready and wished to go on."

The above is followed in the old record with the testimony of the witnesses. After a somewhat lengthy debate it was resolved to acquit the accused of the first charge in the indictment."

Second Charge
"Session then took up the second charge and passed the following Resolution in regard to it, viz: "Inasmuch as it is the opinion of this Session that the proof produced on the part of the prosecution has fully established said charge, therefore it is resolved that Mr. ——— guilty of a public offense against this Church and Merits the censure of the Lord's house for the same. Resolved, second, That Mr. ——— be and is hereby suspended from the privileges of the Church until he gives evident signs of repentance and makes a public acknowledgement of his offense before Session."

for the Session."
In the fall of 1949 the Rev. James C. Watson resigned the charges of Upper Marsh Creek and Great Conewago Presbyterian Churches. With his resignation the Great Conewago and Gettysburg churches dissolved partnership — an arrangement that had endured for sixty-one memorable years.

Died In 1880
When the Rev. James C. Watson died on August 30, 1880, the event was noted in the Gettysburg papers, as follows, on the dates given:

1. Star and Sentinel, Thursday, September 2, 1880 —

"Died, August 30, 1880, at Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, Dr. James C. Watson, D.D., formerly pastor of the Presbyterian Church, in this place, aged seventy-five years, seven months, and three days. Dr. Watson was elected pastor of the Upper Marsh Creek Presbyterian Church, June 18, 1832, the charge then consisting of the Gettysburg and Hunterstown congregations. We believe it was his first pastoral charge. He left Gettysburg in 1850."

2. Star and Sentinel, Thursday, September 8, 1880 —

"Dr. James C. Watson, D.D., who died several weeks ago at Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, was born in Donegal Township, Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, January 25, 1803. He was a graduate of Princeton College and Theological Seminary. After being licensed to preach he first preached at Bethlehem, Pennsylvania. From there he intended to go to the West; but on his way, while temporarily stopping at Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, he preached here, and was called as pastor of the Hunterstown-Gettysburg Presbyterian Church. From here he went to Clinton, New Jersey; then to Kingston, New York. His final charge was at Milton, Pennsylvania."

Call Rev. Mr. Hays
Early in 1850 the Rev. Isaac N. Hays was called to Great Conewago church. He was ordained and installed October 10, 1850. After four years of faithful and outstanding service his work ended at Great Conewago, when he was called to historic Middle Spring Church, Cumberland County, Pennsylvania. Rev. Hays built the brick house, owned by Great Conewago Church, and known as the Parsonage since 1914. He was the founder of the Hunterstown Academy, which was located near the present church building. The Academy structure was torn down in 1887 and the chapel that now stands next to Great Conewago Church was constructed of bricks salvaged from the old academy. The Hunterstown Female Institute, which was conducted in the building now known as the Manse, was also founded and conducted by the Rev. Mr. Hays, assisted by his sister, Miss Jane Hays.

In the "Adams Centinel" for October 25, 1852, the following notice appeared: "Hunterstown — English and Classical Academy — The first Session of this Institution will open Wednesday, November 3, 1852. Mr. John H. Clark, the Principal, is a graduate of Jefferson College. Boarding can be had in the Village on reasonable terms. Tuition, from eight to twelve dollars per session of five months. Rev. Isaac N. Hays, President of the Board of Trustees."

Female Institute
Adams Centinel, Monday, September 19, 1853 — "Hunterstown Female Institute — This School will be under the joint supervision of the Rev. I. N. Hays and Miss Jane Hays, and will commence its first session of five months on the first Monday of November next. — Exercises — The second semi-annual Exhibition of the Hunterstown English and Classical Academy took place on Wednesday evening, September 28, 1853, in the Presbyterian Church. There was a very large assemblage of persons and many speeches were delivered."

Adams Centinel, Monday, October 17, 1853 — "Hunterstown Academy — We are requested to say that the Winter Session of this flourishing Institution will open on the first Wednesday of November next." These notes will be continued next week.

LUTHERANS TO TALK MERGER AT DAYTON, O.

By TOM HENSHAW
AP Religion Writer

You may be reading quite a bit next week about a subject dear to the hearts of most American Protestant churchmen. In a single word: merger.

It will be one of the chief topics of discussions and progress reports when the 21st biennial convention of the United Lutheran Church in America opens Wednesday in Dayton, Ohio.

The planned merger involves the ULCA, the largest single Lutheran body in America, and three smaller churches, the Augustana, Finnish and American Evangelical Lutheran churches.

From 150 To 17
When the union is accomplished, probably within the next three or four years, it will bring into a single fold some three million of the nearly 7 1/2 million Lutherans in America.

There was a time when the Lutherans were one of the most fragmented denominations in American Protestantism. There were about 150 divisions. Since 1910, when concerted drives for unification began, the number has been reduced to 17.

Generally the divisions came, not over doctrine, but along national lines and particularly over the languages in which services were conducted.

Grew More Alike
But as national and linguistic differences began disappearing of November next. All the branches of a thorough education will be taught on very reasonable terms. For full information address I. N. Hays, Hunterstown, Adams County, Pennsylvania."

ROMEO FACES NEW CHARGE

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The case against Joseph Kitchen, accused of romancing, then balking single ladies near their 40s, was building today.

An Atlantic City woman identified the good-looking, 33-year-old Palmerston, Pa., man Friday as the self-styled test pilot who borrowed $3,000 from her and never paid it back.

The woman, Florence Straugh, said she gave the money to Kitchen when he said he was temporarily in need of cash. He never returned the money, she said.

Magistrate Louis Vignola raised Kitchen's bail by $2,000 after her testimony. He already was being held in lieu of bail on six charges of taking money under false pretenses.

Steve Damsel, 43, Bethlehem, Pa., also was being held on six counts.

Warriors Last Half Surge Fails As Trojans Win 19-9 To Retain Perfect Record

Staving off a tremendous Gettysburg High Warriors second half rally, the Chambersburg Trojans kept their undefeated string intact, with a 19-9 victory, before 2,200 Mothers' Night fans here Friday evening in a South Penn League game. It was the fourth straight triumph for the victors.

The Warriors again proved themselves a second half ball club when, after being hopelessly outclassed in the first half by a 19-0 count, they completely dominated the second half and almost made a close game of it.

Chambersburg wasted no time in breaking the scoring ice after receiving the opening kickoff as halfback Mike Lippy smashed off right tackle for 51 yards and a touchdown after only 2:05 of the first quarter. Bernie Washabaugh's placement attempt was wide and Gettysburg was down 6-0. After receiving the ensuing kickoff, Tom Crist and Bob Furney gained only six yards in three tries and Crist punted to the Chambersburg 48.

Trojans Unstoppable
The Trojans, spearheaded by Lippy, Washabaugh and Tom Wertz, drove right back to score again, with Washabaugh carrying it over from the one, and Chambersburg had a 12-0 lead. Washabaugh's attempt was again wide.

The quarter ended that way, and Chambersburg started another drive from their 49 at the opening of the second period. Washabaugh and Wertz were the whole show, as the Trojans pushed across their score in 12 plays, with Washabaugh again driving over, this time from the three, and the Warriors appeared to have no hope.

Washabaugh converted this time, and the score read 19-0.

Gettysburg showed signs of coming to life at the close of the half as Crist tried off two nice gains, and Larry Nichols completed a screen pass to Furney, but Nichols' next pass was intercepted at the close of the half.

Maitland Scores
Gettysburg presented a completely different team when they took the field in the second half. After Crist returned Washabaugh's kick to the 27, the Warriors promptly marched 37 yards to a score, Nichols, who sat out much of the first half, was the big difference in the second half. Nichols did a beautiful job of directing the club, and made the most of the tremendous running talent of Crist. The touchdown came on a pass play, going from Bill Shoemaker to Gary Maitland, covering 20 yards.

Ted Fair came in to add the extra point, which came on an almost extinct phenomenon, a drop kick.

The Maroons defense dug in and held the Trojans, and Gettysburg took over on their 25 yard line. They drove all the way to the Chambersburg 3, sparked by the running of Crist, the passing of Joel Riddlemoser, and a beautiful end around play by Maitland.

Register Safety
The Trojans stopped the Maroons on the three, and on the first play, Washabaugh fumbled in the end zone, and fell on it, to make the score 19-9 as Gettysburg received credit for a safety.

Definitely the big man in the Chambersburg picture was Washabaugh, who carried 15 times for 83 yards and 13 points. He was all over the field on defense too, along with tackle Sam Brand. Tom Crist carried 16 times for 57 yards for Gettysburg, while Shoemaker, Maitland and Nichols also excelled.

The Warriors are now 0-2-1, while Chambersburg is 4-0. The Trojans haven't lost to Gettysburg since 1942, but this year's GHS loss is no disgrace as Chambersburg has a fine chance of taking all the bacon in South Penn play.

Play At Mechanicsburg
Next Friday the Warriors travel to Mechanicsburg for another league game. The Wildcats defeated Shippensburg 13-0 in a non-conference game Friday evening.

Chambersburg and Carlisle remain in a tie for first place in the South Penn Conference, both registering victories Friday night.

In a clash of the unbeaten at Carlisle, the Thundering Herd Crushed Hershey 21-6 as Dick Eckert, Carlisle quarterback, sparked his team to victory, running 62 yards for a TD in the third period.

Hanover, held to a 6-0 margin at half time, came on strong in the last half to easily defeat Middletown 25-0.

BOBBY JONES IS BACK AT SCENE OF OLD VICTORY

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (AP)—Bobby Jones came back to St. Andrews Friday night.

The Emperor of Golf reached this home of the game drawn, tired and eight hours behind schedule.

The once perfectly coordinated athlete, now badly crippled, walked slowly with the aid of canes from his car into Rusacks famed Old Links hostelry on the edge of St. Andrews Old Course.

"It's been a long time getting back—22 years. But it's been worth waiting for," the 56-year-old Georgian said on leaving his car.

Jones, who serves as nonplaying captain of the United States team in next week's inaugural World Amateur Championship, made his way through a score of old caddies and devoted fans who knew him, worked for him or at least watched him during his unique grand slam year of 1930.

Wins Four in Four Months
That year Jones won the British Amateur and Open and the United States Amateur and Open in the space of four months. He won the British Amateur at St. Andrews.

The transatlantic plane bringing Jones and the American team made an emergency landing on three engines at Gander, Newfoundland, and finally came into Prestwick, Scotland, about eight hours late.

The American team trying to win the first playing for the Dwight Eisenhower Cup Oct. 8-11 is made up of Charles Coe, Oklahoma City, Billy Joe Patton, Morganton, N.C., Dr. Frank Taylor, Pomona, Calif., and Will Hyndman of Philadelphia.

Touchdowns—Gettysburg, Maitland, Chambersburg, Washabaugh 2, Lippy.

PAT—Gettysburg, Fair, dropkick Chambersburg, Washabaugh, placement.

Safety—Gettysburg, Washabaugh recovered fumble in end zone.

NOTES OF THE GAME—Too much credit cannot be given to the Gettysburg squad for its amazing rally in the last half—it took real courage after being hopelessly outclassed in the first half—they dominated play throughout the last two periods—if they had been able to score early in the fourth period instead of losing the ball on the Trojans' 3 the outcome might have been different—as it was the Warriors got a safety out of the drive, Washabaugh fumbling in his end zone—no grid fan can remember when a Gettysburg high school player drop-kicked an extra point previous to Teddy Fair's conversion—Charles Reese, Trojan coach, told Gettysburg Coach Ben Jones after the game the Warriors were the hardest hitting and best looking club during the second half that his team has faced—a very fine mist fell during the game but did not affect either team's play—the professional like appearance of yardage markings on the field was the result of the fine work of Bob Smith who was assisted by school custodians.

Price Of Feeder Cattle Is Expected To Be Higher In Fall, Says Frank S. Zettle

By FRANK S. ZETTLE
Adams County Farm Agent

Feeder cattle prices will probably be higher this fall and extreme care in handling them will pay off in fewer losses, and have them in better shape to make rapid winter gains.

If calves have been shipped some distance, they will be tired and their resistance low so they must be handled with care on arrival.

It is best not to turn them on a large pasture immediately on arrival. Keep them in a protected lot for a few days and out of the mud. Shipping fever — if it is going to show up — usually makes its appearance soon after the calves arrive. Some researchers are recommending an antibiotic in a conditioning feed as soon as the cattle arrive. Be on the lookout for foot rot, especially in muddy lots. Prompt veterinary attention is necessary for both shipping fever and foot rot.

Use Average Quality

Average quality hay or silage is usually the best feed for the first couple of days. Allow them plenty of water, but go slow on heavy grain feeding. Start calves, not accustomed to grain, with about two pounds of grain daily. Grain can be increased about one-half pound daily as they move to full feed.

Your winter grain needs plenty of fertilizer this fall! Winter grain acreage that will be seeded down next spring to hay and pasture needs plenty of plant food this fall and next year. Research at the university has developed a sure-fire system for fertilizing fall-sown grains which are seeded down to grasses and legumes. Here it is.

Drill Seedbed Deep

Drill deeply across the seedbed 400 pounds per acre of 0-20-20 fertilizer or its equivalent, before you seed the grain. Then when actually drilling the small grain, drill in an additional 300 pounds per acre of 5-10-10 fertilizer.

That first planting of 400 pounds of 0-20-20 is applied to help establish a good new seedling in the spring, and to enable the soil to provide enough plant food for the first hay or pasture production year. If your fall-sown grain isn't seeded down to a legume-grass hay or pasture mixture, than 300 pounds per acre of 5-10-10 probably will give good yields of grain on soil of fair to good fertility. But on poor soils you'll want to add another 100 pounds, or a total of 400 pounds 5-10-10 to insure a good crop.

Don't Count On Drugs

Don't count on drugs alone! That's good advice anytime, but it's extra true when it comes to using drugs to treat a case of mastitis in your dairy cow. Even with modern drugs, that ounce of prevention still is worth a full pound of cure, when it comes to mastitis in dairy cows.

With the advent of antibiotic treatment for mastitis, many dairymen all but forgot about good management to prevent mastitis. All they needed to do, they thought, was to buy a tube of some antibiotic preparation, put it in the cow's udder . . . and presto, all the mastitis was gone.

Antibiotics worked well at first, but, so did DDT to kill flies. Now, bacteria that cause mastitis have David Redding, Gettysburg R. 4, attended the leadership training conference at Pennsylvania State University September 24-26 as the chaplain of the Pennsylvania Association of Future Farmers of America. The purpose of this conference was to further the knowledge of the state officers in leadership, press relations, social conduct, effective speaking and FFA correspondence.

Here's the Answer

By ANDREW C. LANG
The Associated Press

Question: Although I have been doing woodworking for many years, it is only recently that I have been working with plywood. It brought up a new problem: how to cover the edges, something that is not necessary with regular wood. I have been using stock molding for the plywood edges, but there are times when I do not find this satisfactory. Can you tell me how to cover plywood edges?

Answer: It now is possible to buy wood veneer strips made especially for covering plywood edges. These come in various colors and grains to match different kinds of wood. They are glued into place and do an excellent job of covering the edges of plywood. However, do not overlook the possibility of leaving the plywood edges uncovered in certain types of projects. This might apply, for instance, in modern furniture, where staining the edges emphasizes the layers of wood and produces a decorative effect. Before putting on the stain, sand the edges smooth and fill all holes with wood putty or plastic wood.

Question: The joints between the wall tiles in our bathroom were in need of repair, and I recently used some white tile filler for the job. I wasn't entirely satisfied with the result, but it looked a lot better than before I tackled it. However, here and there some of the tile filler got on the face of a few tiles. After finishing the repair, I cleaned the tiles thoroughly with a damp cloth and the filler material seemed to wipe off easily. But now I notice that those particular tiles have a slightly dull finish. Washing them with soap and water hasn't done any good. How can I remove the dullness?

Answer: When any of the filler gets on the face of the tile, it should be wiped off immediately—not after you complete the entire job. A few minutes make a big difference in this particular case. You can probably restore the natural finish of the tiles by wiping them with denatured alcohol . . . rubbing only the dull areas and not the joints.

(You may send repair and housing inquiries to Mr. Lang in care of this newspaper and he will answer those of general interest. He cannot, however, undertake individual correspondence.)

Easy way to make soft break cubes. Stack two or three slices of the bread on a bread board. With a bread knife, and using a sawing motion, cut the bread into narrow strips. Cut again in the opposite direction to make cubes of even size.

PA. LIVESTOCK SHOW NOV. 10TH

Extensive displays of the nation's armed might will share the spotlight with the Pennsylvania National Livestock Exposition, the Tommy Steiner world championship rodeo and the Mid-Atlantic National Truck Show in Harrisburg the week of November 10-15 all at the State Farm Show Building.

Preliminary plans for a huge free Armed Forces Show were mapped at a meeting September 19 called by Major General A. J. Drexel Biddle, Pennsylvania Adjutant General, state Agriculture Secretary William L. Henning, and Leon Falk, Pittsburgh, president of the Pennsylvania Livestock and Allied Industries Association, Inc.

The Armed Forces Show will share the 4-acre main exhibition area in the Farm Show Building with the Truck Show.

75,000 There Last Year

Plans call for displays and demonstrations of a wide range of new equipment. Efforts are being made to show such advanced weapons as: 90 mm gun batteries using radar; Ajax, Thor and Falcon missiles; flame thrower demonstrations; display and overhead demonstrations of Thunderbird and Blue Angel jet planes; and x-ray cooking.

Last year, an estimated 75,000 persons attended the first Livestock Exposition. The premium offerings for this year's free exposition total $80,000 and the entry list for beef cattle, swine and sheep is expected to top 3,000 head.

Endorsed by the Pennsylvania Motor Truck Association, the free Truck Show will attract major motor manufacturers from all parts of the United States. Included in the show will be truck trailers, dump trucks, trucks for various livestock purposes, long and short-haul trucks, trucking equipment and accessories.

Sellout crowds of more than 40,000 witnessed the Tommy Steiner world championship rodeo in Harrisburg last year. The rodeo, again produced by Steiner, will return to the State Farm Show Arena starting Tuesday, November 11, for two matinees and five evenings. Prize money has been upped to $15,000 and is expected to attract 200 professional cowboys who will vie for the cash and championship points.

The Livestock Exposition, Truck Show and Armed Forces Show will begin Monday, November 10, the day before the start of the rodeo. There will be no admission charge for the first three events.

Remainder for summer cooks: When you turn the oven on in order to bake potatoes, make up a batch of muffins (from scratch or a mix), too. Both potatoes and muffins may be baked at a hot (425 degrees) temperature.

DROUGHT EFFECT ON FARM SHOWN BY STATISTICS

Drought can have a peculiar effect on a farmer's pocketbook.

The State Department of Agriculture, in interpreting a statistical summary of farmer's gross and net incomes for last year, says that while Pennsylvania farmers sold $15.8 million more farm products in 1957 than in 1956, it cost them $80.6 million more to produce and market the items sold.

This gave farmers of the Commonwealth a total net farm income of $168.2 million for 1957, down $64.8 million from 1956.

Livestock Not Fully Replaced

Here is what happened, according to Crop Reporting Service spokesmen. The price of livestock was high in 1957. This meant that the farmer received good prices when he sold beef cattle, hogs, sheep and lambs.

But replacement animals had to be purchased. These, too, were costly — in many cases prohibitively so. Therefore many farmers did not fully replace their feeder cattle stocks.

And then there was last year's drought. Low crop production meant that inventories of hay and feed grains were low. In some cases dairy farmers were required to reduce the size of their herds and many sold out.

Due to the shortage of feed grains and hay, prices of these items in Pennsylvania jumped.

Alfalfa hay, for example, sold for $42 a ton. It normally sells for about $35 a ton. Other prices followed suit. And the prices of non-farm items continued to rise on the farm as everywhere else.

Statistics show that production costs rose $26.2 million and farm inventories — including livestock and the feed that farmers did not have — dropped $54.6 million from the previous year.

The Commonwealth's 122,000 farms in 1957 each averaged $1,335 in net income, well below the $1,793 average of 1956. Pennsylvania farms averaged 106.5 acres in size and nearly one-fourth are under 30 acres, factors which account largely for the relatively low average income per farm.

MORE THAN 40 SHIPS TIED UP BY UNION ORDER

NEW YORK (AP) — The strike of union deck officers against 20 American steamship firms entered its third day Friday, with more than 40 passenger liners and freighters tied up in ports from Boston to New Orleans.

Federal mediators had no luck in talks Thursday with representatives of the striking, 1,300-member Masters, Mates and Pilots Union and the employer group, the American Merchant Marine Institute.

The companies affected operate about 310 vessels. All the ships face a tieup when they come into East and Gulf Coast ports. Tankers and foreign flag ships are not affected. Neither are the ships of several American companies which already signed contracts with the union.

Lay Off Crews

The United States Line laid off 1,734 crewmen of its $3,000-ton liner United States and the smaller America.

The dispute involves vacation, pension, welfare and fringe benefits. Wages are not an issue.

John M. Franklin, president of the U.S. Lines, contended the union's demands were prohibitive, adding: "We're determined to fight it through."

Fight For Control Of Brushland Fire

MONROVIA, Calif. (AP) — Five hundred fire fighters battled Friday to control a fire that has raced through 320 acres of tinder-dry brushland on the outskirts of this suburban foothill community.

Firemen said at least seven homes have been destroyed by the blaze blamed on three children playing with matches.

A receptionist at a sanitarium told firemen she saw three children start the fire Thursday afternoon.

Two sanitariums were evacuated as the flames crept toward Monrovia, 10 miles northeast of Los Angeles.

Mysterious Donor Gives Money Away

MIDDLESBOROUGH, England (AP) — A mysterious benefactor in overalls showed up at a Middlesborough church Friday and gave away more than $1,000 for the second day running.

The mystery donor called at the Anglican Convent of the Holy Rood Thursday and handed the mother superior a bag containing $2,940 in five-pound notes, some of them 18 years old.

She said the man who gave her the money was young and dressed in overalls. He declined to give his name and said only: "My father has asked me to give you this."

Friday a man — apparently the same one — cycled up to the All Saints Church in overalls and handed the Rev. W. Walker a paper parcel containing $1,540 in old five-pound notes.

"I was absolutely staggered," said the vicar. "The man just said 'It is from my father. It is anonymous.'"

Unsafe Safe Nets Burglars $2,300

NEW YORK (AP) — It was a cinch for burglars to get $2,300 from an advertising company's safe Thursday night.

The combination, neatly typed on a sheet of paper, was taped to the door of the safe.

The company, like many others, did this so its safe would not be ruined if burglars dropped in, police said.

The burglary was in the office of the Richard Robbins Advertising Co.

SHOWER FALL FATAL

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Frank Hasenkopf, 15, slipped while taking a shower Thursday night, crashed through the glass door, cutting himself so badly that he died an hour later from shock and loss of blood.

DETROIT (AP) — Jaycee J. King, a bus driver, found a bullet on the floor of his bus and wondered if it would work. He tried it in a revolver he kept in his home. Doctors say Mrs. King will recover from a bullet wound in her cheek.

Dr. Richard C. Wolf Writing Book On Sabbatical Leave

Dr. Richard C. Wolf, son of Dr. and Mrs. Norman S. Wolf, 116 W. Middle St., Wednesday moved with his family to Anna Maria Island, near Bradenton, Florida, to begin four months work during which he hopes to complete the first part of a book on the church unity movements in the United States.

DR. R. C. WOLF

Then work of Dr. Wolf was outlined in a featured article in Bradenton, Florida, Herald. Illustrated with a picture of Dr. Wolf, his wife and ten-year-old son, Tracy, the article states that Dr. Wolf "is now on sabbatical leave for the first semester from Oberlin, O. College, where he is associate professor of church history in the Graduate School of Theology."

"While here he will work on his book which will cover the important documents and sources of church unity and movements in the United States."

To Require 5 Years

"This impressive undertaking will begin with the Massachusetts Proposals of 1703 for the merger of the Presbyterian and Congregational Churches in the New England colonies and come up to the present. It will also include church mergers now proposed or in the process. Essential portions of each document bearing on the ecumenical movement will be presented within a total frame of reference showing the circumstances from which it arose and the effect that it produced."

"The work will be undertaken in two phases. The first will be a source book of documents relating to Lutheran Church unions and unity movements. Doctor Wolf will trace the tremendous achievements that have been made by the Lutheran Church in intra-denominational unity. In 1900 there were 30 different synods and it is expected that by 1960 this total will be only 12. During his work on this first section he will be continuing his research for the larger scope of the second phase of his work. This will show the connection of the American Protestant churches to the ecumenical movement and their relationship with the National Council of Churches, the World Council of Churches and the International Missionary Council. He anticipates that this latter section will take five years to complete."

"No such study has ever been made in this country. When completed the work will be invaluable to students of church history, American history and the ecumenical movement."

Father, Brother In Ministry
The articles note that Dr. Wolf is a minister of the United Lutheran Church of America, that his father and brother are also ministers. It relates that as a child Dr. Wolf planned to become a foreign missionary but later he decided "his life's challenge lay in this country rather than in the field of foreign missions."

After graduating from Gettysburg College and Seminary, he accepted a call to First Lutheran Church, Plymouth, O. Then he accepted a fellowship to the Divinity School of Yale University and earned his doctor's degree in church history.

The articles note that when Dr. and Mrs. Wolf arranged for their son to begin school on Anna Maria Island, they found teacher, Mrs. Helen Lark, had been a fellow student of Dr. Wolf at Gettysburg College.

The Norfolk Light Infantry, shown above, is one of the teams which will join "battle" in the 18th semi-annual North-South Skirmish to be staged at Teeter's Quarry, Littlestown Rd. Sunday. The group took its name from the original Confederate outfit organized by men of the Norfolk-Portsmouth area and mustered into Confederate service as Co. D, 6th Virginia Infantry. The 6th Virginia Regiment was present at Gettysburg July 2 and 3, 1863, exposed to enemy fire but most of the time supporting other troops which were in the front. Although not actively engaged, the company lost a number of men. It was part of Mahone's Brigade, Anderson's Division. YOUNG CLIMBER INJURED HIGH ON MOUNT OLYMPUS

By ROBERT F. ALKIRE
SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Thirty rescuers picked their way cautiously up the face of nearby Mount Olympus in the predawn hours today, trying to reach a painfully injured youth who fell while on a hiking trip.

Doug Chapman, 17, of Salt Lake City, lay in a rocky saddle near the peak of the 9,017-foot mountain.

Darkness and the rugged, brush covered, jagged cliff approaches to the scene frustrated rescue attempts during the night.

Five groups of six men each probed their way up several approaches by flashlight and lantern. None had reported reaching young Chapman, and one of his two teen-age companions, Leroy Franke, 16.

Fell Twenty Feet
Kit Sallenbach, 16, the other member of the hiking party, struggled 2½ hours to get down the mountain and report young Chapman's plight. Young Franke stayed behind to offer what comfort he could.

Mrs. D. Marden Chapman, the youth's mother, said Sallenbach told her that her son fell about 20 feet while the trio were scrambling atop the mountain, located at the edge of suburban Holladay, Utah.

Gettysburg, and Georgia and Bernice Hiteshaw, of here, visited Mrs. Ruth Anderson and her daughter at Mayberry recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Crouse and daughters and Mrs. Marion Haines spent the weekend at their hunting cabin in Potter County, Pa., with Jack Crouse and his family, of Littlestown.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles McElroy, Baltimore, were among weekend visitors of Mrs. Margaret Haines and her daughter, Mary.

Communion and Rally Day will be marked at St. Paul's Lutheran Church Sunday. Sunday School will be at 9 a.m. and worship at 10 a.m.

Communion service at the Evangelical United Brethren Church will be Sunday morning at 9 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Feight and Mrs. Harry Angell went to Breese-wood Thursday to visit Mrs. Angell's son, Walter, who is ill.

Sunday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Angell included Mrs. Austa Perrine and Daniel Lenker, Millersburg; Mrs. Frank Blyer, Steelton, and Smith Downer, Carlisle.

There was some consternation among right wing French Colonial leaders at De Gaulle's policy declaration and the outline of a five-year plan for Algeria in Constantine Friday.

The plan calls for vast industrial and housing construction and better opportunities for Algerian Moslems, but leaves virtually all political questions unanswered. De Gaulle never mentioned integration or the phrase "Algeria is French."

It is unfortunate that we have had such antiquated lights for so many years. They were more or less inadequate when installed and reflectors were soon placed in the globe in a futile effort to divert the light toward the street and not into thin toward the sky.

Now the trend seems to secure standards that will be

Emmitsburg

EMMITSBURG — Secondary school teachers in the Baltimore-Washington-Wilmington area will participate in an in-service institute to improve methods and types of teaching. It was announced by Sister Hilda Gleason, president of St. Joseph College, Emmitsburg.

Open to teachers in the Catholic school of the area, the Institute will begin Saturday at the Seton High School, Baltimore and will conclude next June 6. Funds for the institute were provided through a grant to St. Joseph College from the Raskob Foundation for Catholic activities.

Homemakers Meet

The Emmitsburg Homemakers Club met recently at the home of Mrs. J. Ward Kerrigan, President. Mrs. Robert Fitez called the meeting to order after which the American Creed was recited in unison.

Mrs. Fitez, cultural chairman, gave a report on the Middle East, illustrating with a map and posters of the countries and telling about their produce and economic conditions.

Miss Annabelle Hartman gave a resume of her trip to the Middle East, supplementing her talk by recounting little personal experiences including her camelback ride around the pyramids in Egypt.

Mrs. Fitez read an excerpt from an article in the Baltimore Sunday Sun about the first homemakers club in Long Green, Baltimore County. The club was organized in 1923 and was known as the Rural Women's Club.

Miss Mary Graham was demonstrator.

Two delegates were sent to the 4-H short course. They gave reports of their interesting and education time. Their trip was financed by the homemakers with the proceeds from a bake sale held and card party and picnic supper.

The homemakers donated to the Emmitsburg library and $10 to the Victor Cullen Hospital for the Christmas party.

It was suggested that carol singers go to Victor Cullen Hospital during the Christmas holidays and that the 4-H Club decorate Christmas trees for the hospital.

The October meeting theme will be "Devil's Food Cake." It will be at the home of Mrs. Victor Fitez. The November meeting will be held on November 20 at the home of Mrs. George Keepers.

A nominating committee appointed is: Mrs. Gilbert Oddo, Mrs. Charles Harner and Mrs. John Zacharias. Eighteen members and four guests were present.

Gaulle to power last June, said through a spokesman the program is "excellent, going beyond our expectations." Informed sources said, however, that the Europeans have no other course but to back De Gaulle.

Initial comment among the North Africans who make up the bulk of Algeria's 10 million people was reserved.

in keeping with the spirit of the community... in Gettysburg the spirit of 1861-1865. The Hadco Aluminum Co. of Littlestown, for one, is making old fashion gas lights and has found a ready market... placing some in Pittsburgh recently. Elsewhere in the country city fathers are restoring their cities or towns to its time-honored semblance. Certainly, it seems to be the proper thing to do in Gettysburg.

It does not seem just right to "spotlight" the center of town and let the rest of the community go by the way.

In a number of residential areas the street lights are for more antiquated than our downtown street standards. They are mere bulbs suspended in an old shade. The light from these bulbs isn't sufficient to make a glint blink.

We believe that council should replace these old street bulbs of ancient vintage and at the same time replace all the street standards in the downtown areas... not in a few blocks... but throughout the area... and acquire standards in keeping with the historic significance of this fine community.

Gettysburg is world renowned and only because of the Battle of Gettysburg, Lincoln's immortal Gettysburg Address, Meade, Lee et al... all of the spirit of 1863.

Let's restore Gettysburg as Gettysburg should be and as millions of visitors would like it to be when they come to see us.

Let's keep the history in historic Gettysburg.

It costs society about $27,700 for the death of every person in an auto accident.

But if you add to that the costs of 35 personal injury and 240 property damage accidents for every fatal accident, the total bill per fatality is more than $135,000.

With 38,500 persons killed in traffic last year, the full cost of highway accidents, including non-fatal injuries and property damage, was $5,300,000,000.

These statistics come from the National Safety Council as it prepares for the National Safety Congress, its annual convention, which will be held here October 20-24.

The Congress will bring 12,500 safety specialists to Chicago, and they will spend five jam-packed days studying ways to prevent traffic and other accidents — which last year killed 95,000 persons. The Congress is the world's largest safety meeting. More than 800 speakers and program participants will speak at 300 sessions.

Everything from safety in space propulsion and ammunition nitrate blasting to boating safety and backaches will be studied by the delegates.

The theme of the 46th Congress is "Safety Begins At Home." A highlight of the convention will be the banquet, attended by 2,000 delegates, in the grand ballroom of the Conrad Hilton Hotel October 22. Theodore S. Reppner, president of the Advertising Council, will be the banquet speaker.

James Hoffa, head of the Teamsters' union, has proposed the most grandiose scheme of its kind in our history. He will attempt to organize all the truckers, all the railroad workers, all the airline pilots, and all the maritime workers into a single union.

As one report puts it: "The congressional friends of labor sadly shook their heads and labor's critics smiled with satisfaction," when this plan was announced by Mr. Hoffa. Other labor leaders also sadly shook their heads, and for good reason.

If a labor group of this kind is ever formed, it will have the whole country at its mercy. It could call a general strike which would totally cripple the economy. The trains, the trucks, the planes, and the ships would all stop. Nothing would move unless and until the demands of the union, no matter how extreme they might be, were granted.

It is also said that, if Mr. Hoffa is successful in this incredible endeavor, Congress will have no choice save to bring the unions under the anti-trust laws. But, in any reasonable view, Congress can have no excuse for waiting to see if Mr. Hoffa can achieve his aim or not. His plan simply highlights a fact that has a long been evident — that the unions have a monopoly power that is denied to all other enterprises and organizations, and that this power can no longer be countenanced in a supposedly free country.

The unions must be subjected to the anti-trust laws, like everyone and everything else. The right-to-work must be made universal. All other proposals are trivial.

Reporter Feels Reds Will Swing Toward Middle East

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — It will be a remarkable thing if the Communists—with all the initiative in their hands—permit any rest for U.S. policy in the Far East.

But the possibility by no means can be ruled out. Already there are indications Moscow anticipates a gradual easing of the Far East crisis.

The Soviets seem to be preparing for that, getting ready to swing the spotlight slowly back again to the Middle East.

The Communists do not have control over the rise and fall of crises in the Arab East. Their mode of operation there is to take fullest advantage of crises which do arise.

Control Formosa Crisis

The Communists do have control over the Formosa crisis. When they want to start it going, they have only to order the shooting to begin. When they want it eased, they have only to ease off the shooting.

By pouring on pressure now, the Red Chinese might logically hope to wrest at least the offshore islands from the Nationalists. The United States clearly does not want to go to war over the islands. But there are a number of elements in the crisis which can spell danger to the Communists themselves.

Not the least of these elements is the possibility that the situation can damage relations between Moscow and Red China.

Big Red On Spot

In an aside at his Wednesday news conference, President Eisenhower wondered why, if the Nationalist-Communist strife was really civil war, Soviet boss Khrushchev should say the Soviet Union might participate in that war. However, Khrushchev has seemed rather anxious to avoid giving the impression the Soviets would join Red China in a war on the Nationalist Formosa regime. He said an attack by another power on Red China would be considered an attack on the U.S.S.R. The Peking Moscow treaty requires that.

Can't Risk War

Moscow probably would be unwilling to underwrite a real risk of war between Red China and the United States. The Soviets, however, still are in a position to persuade the Red Chinese to ease the crisis. Without Soviet help, Red China would find a long-sustained shelling of the offshore islands (now in its second month) an expensive proposition.

The Middle East offers a more fertile field for Communist endeavors. There the Soviets are not directly involved. They can keep their own situation relatively secure. And the Middle East does not raise the problem of aggravations between the two big Communist allies.

Turn Toward Arabs

American and British troop withdrawals from Lebanon and Jordan may be a signal for the Soviets to concentrate the lion's share of their attention on the Arabs once again, for good reasons.

When Britain leaves Jordan, there's a good chance of a new Holy Land explosion. When the Americans leave Lebanon, a government which for all practical purposes is a revolutionary regime, will be in control.

There are evidences of a tug-of-war for power inside Iraq's revolutionary regime. The oil of Kuwait is of enormous economic importance to Britain, and the Brit-

The POWER of FAITH by Howard Brodie

HOW AMERICANS WORSHIP The Protestants .1

America was settled to a considerable extent by Protestants seeking the right to worship God in their own way. Among them were the Pilgrims of Massachusetts, the Baptists in Rhode Island, the Quakers in Pennsylvania and the Episcopalians in Virginia.

It was thus no accident that a guaranty of religious freedom appears in the very first amendment to our Constitution, and that more than 250 denominations now thrive here. America prides itself on being a land of many faiths and creeds.

To record my own impressions of the many routes that men choose to find God, I set out recently with sketchbook in hand.

In the course of my travels I visited many Protestant churches, joined in the prayers and hymns and listened to the sermons of many ministers. Although each church has its own individuality, there is about them an essential unity. As St. Paul said: "So we, being many, are one body in Christ, and everyone members one of another, having taken gifts different according to the grace that is given us."

WASHINGTON (AP)—The number of polio cases in the nation dropped last week indicating the 1958 peak may have been passed. State health departments reported 388 cases compared with a revised total of 431 for the preceding week.

The 431 cases in the week ended Sept. 20 had been the high for the year. The second highest total of 394 was reported in the week ended Sept. 13.

Hope For Settlements

Rifal expressed hope that existing disagreements in the Arab world will be resolved. He did not refer by name to President Nasser's United Arab Republic which, Jordan says, has given her the most trouble.

Rifal was asked if his government felt the Middle East atmosphere would steadily improve.

AIRLIFT PLANE SHOT BY REDS

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Four Chinese Communist MIG-17s attacked Quemoy Friday. One transport was heavily damaged and forced to land on a Quemoy beach, the Nationalist Defense Ministry announced. The radio operator and the navigator were wounded.

The attack occurred during an air drop of food and medical supplies to the blockaded Nationalist garrison on the island.

A ministry spokesman did not disclose how many planes were in the air when the attack occurred.

It was the first Communist attack on a Nationalist air drop mission since they began in mid-September. The Nationalists, with American help, have been trying to nullify the Communist artillery blockade.

The number of men aboard the damaged plane was not disclosed.

No Crime To Talk About Robbing Bank

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Anyone can talk about robbing a bank, but it's not a crime unless the plan is carried out.

A federal district court jury, in effect, decided this Thursday night by acquitting three men of plotting to rob the Reamstown Exchange Bank, Lancaster County.

The men are Joseph T. Alessi, media contractor; Raymond B. Schermerhorn, Ambler carpenter; and George W. Lomen Jr., Reading.

The jury, which included four women, deliberated five hours.

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—A first-grader proud of his new-found ability to read obeyed a sign he saw. It said: "Pull." Principal John Crothers said 3,000 students at Kingsbury School promptly marched out in their first fire drill of the year.

Soviet Foreign Minister Gromyko apparently caught the significance of a single little word in the announcement of Britain's withdrawal plans. She would, said Britain "begin the withdrawal Oct. 20. In a U.N. speech, Gromyko called it stalling.

It's likely to be a slow and reluctant withdrawal, far too slow to suit the Soviets. Moscow hopes to apply the heat in the Middle East. The new explosion there, which by present indications could come some time around the turn of the year, cannot arrive too soon for Moscow.

PREMIER RIFAL SAYS JORDAN CAN KEEP ORDER

By TOM OCHILTREE

AMMAN (AP)—Premier Samir Rifal expressed confidence Friday in the ability of his government to maintain order in Jordan.

The 3,000-man British military force sent in at the request of King Hussein in July will begin leaving the country Oct. 20.

In a written answer to questions submitted by The Associated Press, Rifal said:

"Insofar as the internal situation is concerned, the government is fully confident that conditions are steadily returning to normal."

Pressure Resisted

This small Middle East nation has been resisting pressure from discontented elements within its borders and from some of its Arab neighbors for the past 18 months.

Rifal's confidence that Jordan has weathered the storm was supported by the fact that the youthful king has begun traveling freely about his realm and is being warmly received both in isolated desert districts and in Amman.

Rifal expressed hope that existing disagreements in the Arab world will be resolved. He did not refer by name to President Nasser's United Arab Republic which, Jordan says, has given her the most trouble.

Rifal was asked if his government felt the Middle East atmosphere would steadily improve.

"The Jordan government earnestly hopes that this would be
